FUTURE TRENDS:

JOURNALIST OF THE FUTURE. Kumar, Priya. American Journalism Review, April/May 2009

Summary: NBC's Mara Schiavocampo is being hailed as the first "digital correspondent." After spending a year as a freelance reporter "not bound by geography," the network was so impressed it created a new position for her to showcase her cinema-verité style of storytelling. Schiavocampo comes up with story ideas, shoots video and still photography, edits, blogs and produces packages for the Web and television. She travels where she pleases and covers subjects ranging from how Detroit citizens are coping with the struggling auto industry to the popularity of cupcakes to how Hindu temples in India sell hair from devotees for Americans' hair extensions. Her stories, NBC Senior Vice President Alexandra Wallace, "convey an intimacy and honesty sometimes lost in traditional stories." Currently available online at <http://www.ajr.org/Article.asp?id=4735>

WOMEN AND JOURNALISM:

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S MEDIA FOUNDATION: <http://www.iwmf.org/>

Founded in 1990, the International Women's Media Foundation (IWMF) is dedicated "to strengthening the role of women in the news media worldwide as a means to further freedom of the press." First-time visitors can read the "In the News" feature on the homepage to learn about current and ongoing situations that affect female journalists. Here the journalist will also find a slide show of images that talks about recent IWMF fellowship winners, their global research programs, and recent events they have sponsored. Journalists will want to look at the "Opportunities" area to learn about the different ways they can be involved with their work
